JOB DESCRIPTION
Lecturer in Digital Humanities
Vacancy Ref: A1922

Job Title: Lecturer in Digital Humanities
Present Grade: 8A

Department/College: Department of History

Directly responsible to: Head of Department
Supervisory responsibility for: N/A

Other contacts

Internal: Colleagues and students in the Department and the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, together with colleagues in other Faculties, providers of student support services, the Library, ISS, Central Administration and other relevant University actors.

External: Relevant research funding bodies, heritage organisations; academic and research networks.

Major Duties:

- Contribute significantly to the development of the Department of History through the delivery of high-quality research, teaching and scholarship of international excellence
- Seek external research income from major funders (Research Councils, Leverhulme, etc) through collaborative bids with colleagues at Lancaster or other institutions in the UK or overseas
- Pursue a personal research agenda that will deliver outputs of international level quality for the next Research Excellent Framework (REF)
- Develop relations with external stakeholders to maximise the impact of research conducted at Lancaster
- Participate in the Department’s various outreach activities including Open Days, etc
- Develop high-quality undergraduate and taught postgraduate modules both in collaboration with other colleagues and as sole convenor and contribute to the Department’s academic and pastoral care of its students
- Supervise undergraduate and postgraduate dissertations to completion (including PhD)
- Provide cover for colleagues on sabbatical and/or other leave where necessary
- Undertake administrative responsibilities as requested by the Head of Department
- Engage in other duties appropriate to the grade of the post as required by the Head of Department or Dean of Faculty