

PERSON SPECIFICATION
Lecturer in Forensic Linguistics (Lecturer 7)
Vacancy Ref: A1925

Criteria	Essential/ Desirable	Tested By*
A PhD with a focus on Forensic Linguistics (including Forensic Phonetics), or award within 12 months. Please give details of your PhD, stating awarding institution, date of award if applicable, discipline/specialism.	Essential	Supporting Statement
A strong publications record, commensurate with your seniority and level of professional development. Please list your publications over the last 5 years.	Essential	Supporting Statement/ Interview
A strong research profile (commensurate with your seniority and level of professional development) and potential to secure external research funding. Please give details, including value, of any successful awards over the last 5 years.	Essential	Supporting Statement/ Interview
Ability to teach on undergraduate and Masters modules in Forensic Linguistics (including Forensic Phonetics), as well as other areas of Linguistics, as appropriate. Please state your experience.	Essential	Supporting Statement/ Interview
Experience of supervising postgraduate students.	Desirable	Supporting Statement/ Interview
Please write a statement in support of your application, including your rationale for applying for this post and how your work fits with the research profile of the Department of Linguistics and English Language, and, if relevant, Lancaster University more generally (max 500 words).	Essential	Supporting Statement/ Interview
Ability to develop and present a coherent and realistic research plan for the next three to five years, including planned publications and potential for impact beyond academia.	Essential	Interview
Willingness to travel in order to teach off site.	Desirable	Interview
Ability to present information in an engaging and effective manner.	Essential	Interview
Willingness and ability to participate in the general administration of the Department and ability to take on departmental administrative tasks commensurate with the candidate's seniority and level of professional development.	Essential	Interview

- Application Form – assessed against the application form and curriculum vitae. Evidence will be “scored” as part of the shortlisting process.

- Supporting Statement – assessed against additional information provided by the candidate. Evidence will be “scored” as part of the shortlisting process.
- Interview – assessed during the interview process by either competency based interview questions, tests, presentation etc.