Major Duties:

- Engage in individual or collaborative research, establishing a distinctive programme of research and disseminating results through regular publications in top and high impact journals.
- Undertake research which demonstrates innovation and novelty.
- Design, develop and secure substantial proposals for research projects through application to public and private funding sources.
- Teach undergraduate and/or premium fee postgraduate courses delivered by the Department, and associated programmes offered by the School, to a very high standard.
- Contribute to programme design and delivery by developing practice-focused content, adopting innovative teaching styles, and designing and delivering effective assessments.
- Engage actively in the Department by, for example, attending seminars regularly and meeting with the seminar speakers and research visitors to the department.
- Engage in professional activities such as organising conferences, editing journals, committee membership and professional body accreditation.
- Develop knowledge exchange activities by, for example, establishing research and/or educational links with industry and influencing public policy.
- Undertake other academic duties as required by Head of Department.
- If not already qualified, the candidate should be willing to undertake appropriate training in teaching such as the Certificate in Academic Practice.
