JOB DESCRIPTION
Lecturer, Politics Philosophy and Religion
Vacancy Ref: A2107

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Job Title: Lecturer in Middle East and North Africa Studies</th>
<th>Present Grade: Grade 7/8</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Department/College: Politics Philosophy and Religion</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Directly responsible to: Head of department</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Supervisory responsibility for: N/A</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Other contacts

- Internal: Academic colleagues and administrative and support staff in the department and across the University; including the Library; ISS and central administration.

- External: UK Research Councils; Other funding bodies, professional associations, the media, government, research networks, the community.

Major Duties:

- Actively participate and contribute to the development of the Department as a leader in research nationally and internationally.

- Develop a research programme leading to publications in leading international peer-reviewed academic journals and to other appropriate forms of research output.

- Identify opportunities and attract funds for new research contracts and grants.

- Contribute to existing postgraduate and undergraduate teaching in the Department through workshops, lecturing, tutorials and assessment etc.

- Develop where appropriate new interdisciplinary courses in terms of design, content, structure, forms of delivery, method of assessment etc.

- Supervise dissertation projects and PhD students.

- Play a leading role in the department’s academic and pastoral care of students

- To take responsibility for various administrative responsibilities as requested by the Head of Department.

- Provide sabbatical cover where necessary.

- Undertake other academic duties as required by HOD or the Dean of the Faculty