

JOB DESCRIPTION
Lecturer (Assistant Professor) in Macroeconomics
Vacancy Ref: A2857

Job Title: Lecturer in Macroeconomics
Responsible to: Head of Department
Department/Faculty: Department of Economics/Management School
Contacts
Internal:	Academic colleagues and administrative and secretarial staff in the Department, School and University.
External:	Academic community in economics
Major Duties:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • To undertake research, either as an individual or with colleagues, in the area of Macroeconomics of a level and quality that will result in regular publication in internationally-rated journals. • To develop and facilitate applications for external research grants and consultancy awards across the discipline, and work with other members of the Department, Faculty and/or University on major research projects. • To teach undergraduate and/or postgraduate modules delivered by the Department and, as required, to teach on associated programmes offered by the School. • To undertake appropriate module material development. • To undertake administrative duties as directed by the Head of Department. • To represent the Department at conferences and seminars. • To promote the image and reputation of the Department and School in the wider academic, policy and/or business communities. • To supervise research students and to contribute to teaching innovation. 	