

JOB DESCRIPTION

Lecturer in International Political Economy

Vacancy Ref: A2931

Job Title: Lecturer in International Political Economy	Present Grade: Grade 7
Department/College: Politics Philosophy and Religion
Directly responsible to: Head of Department
Supervisory responsibility for: N/A
Other contacts Internal: Academic colleagues and administrative and support staff in the department and across the University; including the Library; ISS and central administration. External: UK Research Councils; Other funding bodies, professional associations, the media, government, research networks, the community.
Major Duties: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Contribute to existing undergraduate and postgraduate teaching in the department through, for example, workshops, lectures, tutorials and assessment. • Develop and deliver new modules relative to departmental needs and research focus. • Supervise dissertation projects and PhD students. • Develop a research programme involving internationally excellent publications and other appropriate forms of high quality research output. • Identify opportunities and attract funds to support research projects. • Participate in and contribute to the department's research culture and associated activities. • Play an active part in the delivery of departmental academic service to and pastoral care of students • Assume various administrative responsibilities as requested by the Head of Department. • Provide research leave cover where necessary. • Undertake other academic duties as required by HOD or the Dean of the Faculty 	