JOB DESCRIPTION
Lecturer in Sociophonetics, Department of Linguistics and English Language
Vacancy Ref: A3506

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Job Title: Lecturer in Sociophonetics</th>
<th>Present Grade: 7A</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Department/College: Department of Linguistics and English Language</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Directly responsible to: Head of Department</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Supervisory responsibility for: N/A</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Other contacts</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Internal: Colleagues and students in the Department and the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, together with colleagues in other faculties, providers of student support services, the library, ISS, central administration and other relevant university actors.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>External: Relevant academic and teaching related networks.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Major Duties:

Teaching

Contribute to the teaching of the Department’s BA and MA programmes, specifically in sociolinguistics, phonetics and phonology:

- Convene and deliver an on-campus MA module in sociolinguistics (9 weeks, two hours per week)
- Convene and deliver a 3rd year UG module in phonetics and phonological theory (including weekly lectures and delivery of small group teaching via weekly seminars)
- Convene and deliver a distance MA module on investigating spoken English (9 weeks)
- Contribute 5 lectures on language variation to a 3rd year UG module on sociolinguistics and teach two seminar groups over 18 weeks (two terms, weekly seminars of one hour per group)
- Contribute to the Department’s first and second/third year UG modules

Supervision

- Supervise BA and MA dissertations
- Communicate effectively with students and colleagues, using face-to-face, telephone, written and electronic communication modes as appropriate (including email, Microsoft Teams, and Moodle, the University’s virtual learning environment)

Scholarship

- Engage in scholarly activities to keep informed about recent developments and current research in sociophonetics
- Contribute to the continuing development of the Department, particularly in the development of its teaching materials
- Develop a personal scholarship programme with the potential to lead to appropriate publication outputs (including textbooks, books, blogs etc)

Service

- Contribute to the Department’s academic and pastoral care of its students and to the enhancement of their learning and personal development; act as academic advisor to UG and MA students
- Participate in the Department’s various outreach activities, including open days, school visits, etc.
- Take on various administrative tasks and responsibilities as requested by the Head of Department
- Undertake other duties as required by the Head of Department