Job Title: Senior Research Associate in Corpus Linguistics and Sociomaterial Methodologies

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Present Grade: 7</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Department/College: Linguistics and English Language</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Directly responsible to: Professor Julia Gillen</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Supervisory responsibility for: N/A</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Other contacts

Internal: Professor Elena Semino, Director, Centre for Corpus Approaches to the Social Sciences

External: Overall project PI, Professor Cathy Burnett at Sheffield Hallam University (SHU); Co-Investigators: Professor Bronwyn Maxwell, SHU, Dr Terrie Lynn Thompson, Stirling University and the PDRA at SHU. Also professional and academic networks.

Major Duties:

- Lead on the construction and analysis of corpora relating to Research Mobilities in Primary Literacy Education (REMPLE):
  - UK newspapers
  - Twitter data
  - project data

- Trace movements of REMPL through case studies drawing on sociomaterial methods such as networked ethnography and controversy mapping.

- Contribute to the design of a research mobilities toolkit for further applications in the social sciences.

- Participate in national and international workshops, conferences and in the preparation of journal papers.

- Collaborate closely with other members of the research team to further the project’s goals and knowledge exchange plans.