

JOB DESCRIPTION

Vacancy Ref: A3605

Department/College: Department of Psychology Directly responsible to: Michelle To Supervisory responsibility for: none Other contacts Internal: Dr. Kirsty Dunn and all academic, research and support staff colleagues, and researce of Psychology; colleagues across departments of the University and central administre External: Research participants; representatives of the funders; stakeholders from partner instit Major Duties: 1. To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infar development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. 2. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confid accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project. 3. To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. 4. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. 5. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution the conference presentations. 6. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap 7. Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the de future research grant funding. 8. </th <th>ent Grade: 6P</th>	ent Grade: 6P
 Supervisory responsibility for: none Other contacts Internal: Dr. Kirsty Dunn and all academic, research and support staff colleagues, and researce of Psychology; colleagues across departments of the University and central administre External: Research participants; representatives of the funders; stakeholders from partner institi Major Duties: To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infarr development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confid accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution the conference presentations. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the de future research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media).
 Other contacts Internal: Dr. Kirsty Dunn and all academic, research and support staff colleagues, and research of Psychology; colleagues across departments of the University and central administrexternal: Research participants; representatives of the funders; stakeholders from partner institimajor Duties: To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infar development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confid accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project. To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution the conference presentations. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the defuture research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media).
 Internal: Dr. Kirsty Dunn and all academic, research and support staff colleagues, and research of Psychology; colleagues across departments of the University and central administrexternal: Research participants; representatives of the funders; stakeholders from partner instite Major Duties: To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infart development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confid accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project. To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential participants arriving for studies. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution the conference presentations. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the defuture research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media).
 Dr. Kirsty Dunn and all academic, research and support staff colleagues, and research of Psychology; colleagues across departments of the University and central administration and participants; representatives of the funders; stakeholders from partner institematic magor puties: 1. To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infarr development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. 2. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project. 3. To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. 4. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. 5. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution to conference presentations. 6. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap 7. Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the de future research grant funding. 8. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media).
 of Psychology; colleagues across departments of the University and central administr External: Research participants; representatives of the funders; stakeholders from partner insti Major Duties: To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infar development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confid accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project. To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution to conference presentations. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the de future research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media).
 External: Research participants; representatives of the funders; stakeholders from partner insti Major Duties: To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infar development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confia accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution t conference presentations. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the de future research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	n students in the Department
 Research participants; representatives of the funders; stakeholders from partner institements Major Duties: To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infarred evelopment, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution to conference presentations. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the defuture research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g., childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	ation.
 Major Duties: To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infar development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confia accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project. To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution t conference presentations. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the defuture research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media).
 To support a range of in-person and online experimental studies testing infar development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confi accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project. To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution t conference presentations. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the de future research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	utions; and external agencies.
 development, using behavioural and eye tracking techniques. 2. To assist in participant recruitment for the Project, and maintaining confid accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project 3. To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. 4. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. 5. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution t conference presentations. 6. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap 7. Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the de future research grant funding. 8. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	Major Duties:
 accordance with University and Funder guidelines. You will manage confide participants, deal with ethical and administrative issues relating to the Project To assist in participant timetabling for studies, contacting potential particip participants arriving for studies. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution t conference presentations. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the de future research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	s examining peripheral visual participants arriving for studies. 4. To undertake data collection, working to established Department protocols, in and contribute to data analysis. 5. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution to conference presentations. 6. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap 7. Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the defuture research grant funding. 8. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	ntial information provided by and contribute to data analysis. 5. To support the dissemination of the research, including contribution to conference presentations. 6. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap 7. Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the defuture research grant funding. 8. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	nts, and reception duties for conference presentations. 6. To contribute to project reports and presentations to stakeholders where ap 7. Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the defuture research grant funding. 8. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	cluding safeguarding policies;
 Under the direction of your Line Manager, to make a contribution to the defuture research grant funding. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	o research publications and future research grant funding. 8. To contribute to the Project and Department's Impact Agenda, by assisting in and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media). 	propriate and non-academic partners (e.g. childcare and education providers, NHS part science events, and local and national media).	velopment of applications for
 To identify and engage in personal development opportunities to suppo including developing your personal research agenda, as provided by the Dep by external bodies.
10. You may also be required to carry out any other duties, commensurate w directed by your line manager or their nominee.	th the grade of the post, as	